-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Maekawa (JP404113960A).

Maekawa discloses a guide loop for a safety belt on motor vehicles comprising a guide element 76, 58 provided with a guide slit for the safety belt, which is fixed to a component of the vehicle body by a fixing screw 78 having a screw head and a screw shaft, and an adapter 112 having a displacement body, whereby the adapter is coupled to the inside of a fixing hole 58 of the guide element, and includes an opening 104 penetrated by the fixing screw 78 inserted through the fixing hole 58, the fixing hole being formed by a bore, whose cross-section is selected to be slightly larger than an external diameter of the screw shaft in order to maximize the overlap between a bearing surface of the guide element and the screw head of the fixing screw wherein the fixing hole 58 also includes a plurality of grooves 92 distributed about the circumference of the bore, into which fixing arms 105 of the adapter, pointing in an axial direction of the bore, extend when the adapter 112 is mounted to the guide element 76, 58. The fixing arms 105 include a hook-shaped structure at their free ends, the structure pointing outwards in a radial direction and engaging guide element when mounted. The fixing arms 105 or the hook-shaped structure are provided with a guide chamfer (see figure 1). The grooves 92 are evenly distributed around the circumference of the boring. The fixing arms 105 form a circle with a slightly smaller internal diameter than the internal diameter of the boring when the adapter is mounted. The fixing arms 105 are positioned relative to the displacement body in such a way that a basically constant slit height of the guide slit results when the adapter 112 is mounted. Regarding claim 2, the method of forming the device is not germane to the issue of patentability of the device itself. Therefore, this limitation has not been given patentable weight.

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
